OFFICE OF THE NATIONAL COMMANDER

★ WASHINGTON OFFICE ★ 1608 "K" STREET, N.W. ★ WASHINGTON, D.C. 20006 ★ (202) 263-2986 ★

September 11, 2015

The Honorable Dick Durbin
United States Senate
SH-711 Hart Senate Office Building,
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Durbin:

On behalf of the 2.3 million members of The American Legion, I would like to express support for the Veterans Small Business Enhancement Act (S.1400).

The American Legion supports legislation that would give veteran-owned small businesses access to surplus federal property. The GSA's federal property program benefits both the federal government and the small businesses that participate in it. Unclaimed surplus property costs the federal government million of dollars to dispose of every year. This same surplus property may help small businesses offset the overhead expenses associated with opening a storefront or office.

This bill's intent is consistent with the nation's goal of building the veteran small business industrial base. Currently, minority small businesses are already in GSA's federal property program. The inclusion of veterans in the program is a step in the right direction in leveling the playing field for our veteran entrepreneurs. The American Legion passed Resolution 339 which supports legislation that enforces parity for veterans in all federal small business programs, ensuring that veterans are not at a disadvantage in competing with any other program established by law.

The American Legion supports passage of this legislation, and applauds the bipartisan leadership between you and Chairman Vitter of the Senate Small Business Committee in addressing this issue facing our veteran entrepreneurs.

Respectfully,

DALE BARNETT
National Commander

DONEE SUCCESS STORY

North Branch Township & Leeds Township (Minnesota)

This spring North Branch and Leeds Township both received Oshkosh snowplows with an original acquisition cost of $151,000 each. The three snowplows were located at the 934th Airlift Wing in Minneapolis and were used to keep the north side of the MSP airport taxiways and small runway clear of snow. The vehicles only have between 4400 and 6700 miles on them. The townships were able to acquire these snowplows for about $7,500 each.

We were lucky to get these plows as many other states expressed interest in them. North Branch will use their two plows this winter on the 50 plus miles of dirt roads within the city and township. Leeds Township is happy they will not have to depend only on county plows to clear their roads this upcoming winter.

Carlisle County (Kentucky)

“Carlisle County is a small county with a very small tax base,” said County Judge Executive Greg Terry. “Because of our budget constraints we do not always have adequate funds to replace our equipment as often as needed.” That’s where the Kentucky Division of Surplus Property was able to help Judge Terry and Carlisle County.

When the Kentucky Division of Surplus Property heard about Carlisle County’s need for a bulldozer, they set out to locate one. It ended up being fairly easy to locate a dozer through the GSA website—one that had been surplused in Florida. The Division of Surplus Property transferred this dozer and set things in motion for it to be delivered to Carlisle County, located in far west Kentucky along the Mississippi River.

Earlier this year, the Carlisle County Fiscal Court became the proud recipient of a “used” Caterpillar D-7 bulldozer from the Kentucky Division of Surplus Property. “This bulldozer is a true asset to the Carlisle County Road Department,” said Judge Terry. “It has been very useful in building roads, clearing right of ways, and mining rock at our gravel pit.” Judge Terry went on to say they were thankful that the county could go to surplus property to receive equipment and supplies at a much cheaper rate to better serve the citizens of Carlisle County.

“A special thanks goes to the staff at Kentucky Surplus Property. Their hard work, and ultimately their dedication to helping counties such as ours, help in bettering the lives of the citizens in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.”

Pharr Police Department (Texas)

The Pharr Police Department deployed this Observation Tower in October 2015 in commercial parking lots across the city to deter vehicle burglaries, auto theft, and other larceny type offenses. The City paid the Texas SASP a service charge of only $5,500 for this tower which had an original acquisition cost of over $51,000.

The City of Pharr is located in the Rio Grande Valley in South Texas minutes from the Mexico border. The population as of the 2010 census was over 70,000. The area has experienced a boom in growth in recent years — in fact, the City of Pharr is located in Hidalgo County which is one of the fastest growing counties in the U.S.

Over the years, the City of Pharr has been a strong supporter of the Federal Surplus Property Program in Texas. Since 2007, the City has received dozens of items, including light towers, a 25-ft trailer, dog kennels, mobile homes, and office furniture. For these items, the City paid an average service charge of only 5% of the original government acquisition cost!

DONEE SUCCESS STORY

Josephine County Airport (Oregon)

Recently, several unused 900 gallon fuel storage tanks became available for screening at Port Hueneme in Ventura, CA. The state of Oregon SASP was allocated 18 of these tanks, and 12 were shipped immediately to the Oregon warehouse in Salem, OR. An email campaign was initiated to prospective Donee agencies to make them aware of the donation opportunity. By the end of the day, all 18 had been donated, including the six remaining units that had yet to be picked up from the port.

Josephine County Airport operates two airports, one of which is located remotely from the other in Grants Pass, OR. The more remote of the two airport locations services the vast amount of tourism to the Redwood National Park, the Oregon Caves National Monument and Preserve, Crater Lake National Park, and the Rogue River. One major problem with this location, however, is the lack of fuel services available for planes coming in and taking off from this airport. The airport requested six of the tanks for plane refueling services. This greatly increased the viability for planes to deliver tourists to the area to take advantage of the many recreation opportunities available there.

Since there were still six tanks waiting to be picked up at Port Hueneme, the idea of “drop shipping” the tanks to the Grants Pass area was offered by the Oregon SASP, since the airport is half way between the SASP and the port. The tanks were delivered, and the airport has experienced increased revenue from enhanced tourism opportunities, as well as revenue from the increased profits of fuel sales. In an area that has been hit hard by declining revenues from timber sales, Josephine County has realized potential growth in tourism, and has made great strides to increase economic vitality to the area.

NASASP OVERSEAS PROGRAM

Recently DLA moved most of their disposal in Italy to the town of Aviano. I began working there this year, and screened this 2008 Ford F750 airplane stair truck with only 615 miles on it. Indiana SASP requested the truck, however the SASP wanted it without the stairs. With the cooperation of DLA, I was able to hire a crane to remove the stairs and ship the truck chassis only, saving the Indiana SASP a lot of money in shipping and delivering this needed vehicle to Indiana.

NASASP PRESIDENT'S LETTER

From the desk of the NASASP President...

Well the chill of fall is in the air for many of our members as leaves turn and begin falling (sorry but I'm still in shorts here in GA today...) Halloween is behind us and Thanksgiving just ahead with only 50 something shopping days until Christmas.

The officers met early in October to discuss the action plans for the year based on the discussions from the annual meeting as well as any issues that arise. Some of the plans include:

- Legislation to revise Title 40
- NASASP national marketing
- Meeting with Lt. General Busch (DLA Commander)
- Discussed revisions to the by-laws to streamline operations
- Revised our corporate marketing letters

Additionally, we've been monitoring the pending Veteran SBA legislation to make sure it stays on track. It was a short but very productive meeting.

Speaking of veterans, I'd like to thank everyone that has served in our military. Your commitment and sacrifice is very much appreciated. Speaking for the officers, we wish you and yours a wonderful Thanksgiving, a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

As always, we welcome your comments and suggestions.

NASASP EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

DEFINING THE ABC'S OF ASSET MANAGEMENT FOR NASASP

This past August in Fort Worth, Texas, at the 2015 NASASP National Meeting, I talked about the many “alphabet” organizations that NASASP supports. For those who could not attend or for those who may be unsure of what was being discussed, I have put together this report. Hopefully, you will understand why it's important for NASASP to be involved in these national and international organizations.

NPMA – NPMA, the National Property Management Association, is the largest organization of property managers in the United States. They are made up of Federal employees, Federal contractors, college and university property managers, hospital managers, state and local government managers and many more. The organization is broken up into regional and state chapters. They meet locally on a routine basis, but on a national basis, once per year in the “National Education Seminar.” NASASP has been involved for over a decade with this organization, giving presentations, taking on leadership roles, and attending their meetings. The networking has been very beneficial and continues to grow. Plus the presentations at the meetings are a way to learn and to teach.

ASTM – The American Society of Testing and Materials is now an international standards organization. ASTM originally started as an organization that tested railroad materials to ensure safety and has grown into developing international standards. Some of the standards that they have developed are for testing the contents of blacktop, NFL helmets and turf, playground equipment and even “bouncy” houses for children's parties. In their Committee E53, they develop standards for the disposal of personal property. I think that it is easy to understand why NASASP would want to be a member of this organization and this Committee in particular. Both DOD and GSA are a part of both the organization and Committee E53, and the opportunity to provide input, shape standards and advise on what maybe detrimental to the disposal process is key to our involvement.

US TAG – The United States Technical Advisory Group was formed under the auspices of ASTM, as Committee E53.10. The purpose of the Committee is to represent American interests to the world in asset management. The TAG was very instrumental in developing the latest international personal property disposal standard, ISO 55000. Over 30 countries came together to discuss the issues, write the standard and get it accepted by ISO. This standard now gives us a “common” way to do business across the world. NASASP was successful in implementing the idea that disposal needs to be circular, not linear. What this means is the property can be owned by two or more different entities. This idea is exactly what reutilization and donation are all about—one person's trash is another person's treasure!

ISO – The International Standards Organization develops a number of standards on the international level. From maintenance to infrastructure for both government and private organizations, it is the largest organization of its kind in the world. NASASP's input during the development of ISO 55000 helped complete the process above. Our logo was part of the logos supporting the US TAG, and it was shown in every meeting, including one in 2012 in Arlington, Virginia where I got to speak to the delegates about the Federal Surplus Personal Property Program. The Program is unique to the United States of America. For most, it was the first time they had heard concept.

ALN – The Asset Leadership Network was started and developed by members of the US TAG who wished to educate the asset managers of the United States about ISO 55000. To date, an Executive Order as been created, two national meetings have been held in Washington, DC and visits to Congress have begun. Participation by NASASP helps to give a voice in the development of future ISO standards, keeps us abreast of DOD and GSA input, allows NASASP to continue to network, and grow our voice in the whole area of asset management at the Federal level.

I hope that this information is valuable to you and your understanding of our support of these organizations. As always, if you have any questions, feel free to contact me at 717-389-5100 or email at ExecutiveDirector@nasasp.org. Thanks for all you do for the Donation Program!

- Scott Pepperman, Executive Director of NASAP

NASASP HISTORIAN'S REPORT

The NASASP Legacy...It's Your Legacy Too!

During the past few years as your Historian, I have tried to talk about meetings and events that involved NASASP over the nearly 70 years of our existence. This past summer in Fort Worth, Texas, I again talked about past meetings, including the key points of emphasis from a meeting 50 years ago in San Francisco, California. Also, I discussed several other events that have occurred in this century, albeit over a decade ago. However, I realized that many of you were not employed at your State Agencies for Surplus Property (SASP) for 10 years or more. For those of you who did not get to attend the National Meeting, I offer them again here for your review and knowledge.

DESERT STORM – During the early 1990's, the United States was in a limited war with Iraq to kick them out of territory they invaded in the Middle East. Saddam Hussein's troops were easily overrun by Coalition Forces. The real effort only took about 100 hours! The United States government, expecting a much longer conflict, prepared in every way for a prolonged operation. Part of that preparation involved tons of food that was produced, packaged, wrapped, palletized and made ready for shipment. After the unexpected ending of the conflict, this excess food had to be disposed of in some manner. The answer was the SASPs! In the years that followed, NASASP, the SASPs and GSA developed a plan to move tons of food, water, and sundries to eligible donee organizations across the country. Huge numbers of schools, prisons, food banks and others received food packed in commercial size cans and packages. Mixes, sauces, fruit, vegetables and even meat were all moved. It was tens of millions of dollars worth of food going to great use in eligible donee organizations across America. This is a prime example of the positive use of the Federal Surplus Personal Property Program during an urgent need.

9/11 – Do you remember where you were on that day over 14 years ago? For me, I was in the basement of a state government building, talking about the Federal Surplus Personal Property Program to a group of state agencies. Afterward, Governor Tom Ridge ordered everyone to go home for their own safety. Devastation in New York City, Washington, DC and a field in Pennsylvania was quickly realized. Every plane in America was ordered to stay on the ground. However, in the days that followed, we recovered, rebuilt and life returned to normal. The clean up was tremendous, and this is where the SASPs went into action. Our transportation, networking and resources contributed to all sites of disaster. Within days, our trucks were rolling into New York City with supplies, including tents, cots, blankets, plastic sheets and more. In Washington, DC, it was furniture to stock temporary offices as the Pentagon was rebuilt. Finally in that field in Pennsylvania, we sent insulated clothing for wet fields, stainless steel gurneys and body bags. Whatever was needed, the SASPs around the country were helping to provide. We courageously worked on with no fear for our own safety, just a job to do, the same one we do everyday.

Hurricanes Katrina, Rita, Ike, Gustav, etc. – Ten years ago, starting with Katrina, a series of very disastrous hurricanes struck in numerous states along the Gulf Coast. The hurricanes caused billions of dollars of damage, thousands died, and still more were displaced. Again the SASPs were there for transportation, networking, providing resources, warehousing and more. Although we compete for property everyday, in times of disaster, those borders come down. Calls for help from our fellow SASPs for assistance were met with offers of property, trucks to transport it and the many volunteer groups. Items such as shovels, boots, water, clothing, cleaning supplies and small appliances were immediately sent. On a larger scale, NASASP worked with DLA and GSA to bring in heavy equipment as the rebuilding and clean up began. This included help from the NASASP Overseas Program. Heavy equipment came within weeks from overseas. In fact, some pieces were being put together while the ships were still sailing!

NASASP has a long and proud history of assisting this country in time of disaster, whether man-made or natural. The SASPs stand ready to help and once again demonstrate the positive power of the Federal Surplus Personal Property Program.

NASASP LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE REPORT

The Legislative Committee is responsible for monitoring and working on Capitol Hill and reporting back to the Association. In addition, the Committee also tracks any legislation that may affect the Donation Program on both the Federal and State levels. We push the NASASP agenda in Washington, DC and beyond. Members of this year's Committee include Chairwoman Kristy Fierro (TX), Dewey Blevins (KY), Holly Gustner (MN), Butch Campbell (AR), Arthur Woods (AR), Tony Johnson (MD), Marvin Manassa (DC), Floyd Coburn (VA), Steve Perica (AZ), and Chris Barela (NM). All National Officers are also ex-officio members of the Committee.

The Committee has been working in Washington, DC in 2015 on several key issues. These issues include the fight against exchange sale authority, expansion of Veteran Service Organizations' (VSOs) use of the Program, DLA issues, the Veteran's Small Business Enhancement Bill, and visiting with freshmen and women in the new 114th Congress, which began on January 1, 2015. Here's an update on each issue:

Exchange Sale Authority – The Committee has begun to work in order to make an impact on the Exchange Sale Authority and upcoming sales of property under this Authority. We have recently distributed letters signed by our President Steve Ekin to the leaders of both the House and the Senate Armed Services Committees stating our concerns and position on the matter. These letters will be circulated to no less than 300 Congressional offices. Additionally, we have sent a similar letter to Secretary of Defense Carter, the Secretary of the Army and the Commander of TAMOC. We will soon have a letter drafted to send to the General Services Administrator. Our message is simply this – move the Exchange Sale Authority from in front of R/T/D to behind R/T/D.

Veteran's Service Organizations (VSOs) – In 2014, we initially met with the largest of the VSOs to introduce NASASP and P.L. 113-26, the law that now allows VSOs to acquire any Federal Surplus Property for use in their service to Veterans. P.L. 113-26 also created a new eligibility category for VSOs under Title 40. In 2015, we are going back to these organizations, as well as expanding our reach to the top ten VSOs (in terms of the number of Veterans they serve) and VSOs that are eligible under 113-26 to receive Federal surplus property. One of the latest visits was to the Disabled American Veterans. We are asking to write articles and attend meetings to help get their members to our Programs across the country.

DLA Issues – In mid-May, the Senate Armed Services Committee passed the National Defense Authorization Act for 2016 and sent it to the Conference Committee. In this act, there are two provisions that concern NASASP. The first is recommendations to DLADS on changes, and the second involves disposition of property coming from the draw down in Afghanistan. We are waiting on the GAO report, which was promised to Congress by the end of July 2015, however, at this time, no GSA report has been received. NASASP continues to monitor and send forth any property issues from around the world. We will also continue to update Congress on these issues. Our most recent efforts include a visit to the House Armed Services Committee staff. They have requested, on our behalf, a meeting with Lt. General Busch, Director of DLA. It is anticipated that this meeting will occur before the end of 2015.

Veteran's Small Business Enhancement Act – The bill (H.R. 2221 in the House and S. 1400 in the Senate) has begun gaining momentum. As this report is being written, we have 11 co-sponsors in the House. The Senate Small Business and Entrepreneurial Committee has just passed the Bill and sent it on to the full Senate for a vote of approval. If approved by the Senate, they will then send it back to the House for approval and passage, and finally to the President for his signature. Meanwhile we continue to work with the VSOs to get more letters supporting our efforts sent to Congress. The most important updates are that we have received endorsements in writing from the National American Legion Commander and the President of the US Woman's Chamber of Commerce. These are major accomplishments for NASASP and provide a renewed credibility to our efforts.

Visits to Capitol Hill – By the time you receive this Newsletter, the Committee will have visited over 90 Congressional offices since the beginning of 2015. We not only are visiting freshmen Senators and Representatives, but also those at the highest levels possible including the key Committees and their leadership that oversee the activities of GSA, SBA, DOD, the Veterans and DHS.

The Legislative Committee meets routinely via conference call. All members of NASASP are invited to take part in these calls, although the Committee members are the only ones required. The Legislative Committee also produces a number of white papers, press releases and articles for different forums.

The Committee made a commitment this year to continue to work towards achieving our goal of being more visible in Washington, DC and the nation. We are working to get NASASP recognized as the worldwide leader in Federal Surplus Personal Property Asset Management. At the same time, we are working to fight unfavorable issues to the Donation Program and to lead the fight for changes in policies, regulations and laws to favor the Federal Surplus Personal Property Program. We welcome all suggestions on how we can do a better job for NASASP and our donees. Together we can achieve our goal of making the Program better for all taxpayers of the United States of America.

Respectfully submitted,
Kristy Fierro, Chairwoman
NASASP Legislative Committee

BECOME A NASASP ASSOCIATE MEMBER!

The Federal Surplus Property Program needs your help and your voice.

Read on to see how your organization can help.

Associate Members of NASASP are key players on the Surplus Property Donation Program team. Associate Members are typically people or organizations who receive surplus property (and thereby save money for the citizens they support) and have a keen interest in the Program. Municipalities, schools, and certain non-profit organizations receive millions of dollars' worth of heavy equipment, computers, office furniture and equipment, vehicles and much more through the Federal Surplus Property Program each year. Help us ensure the growth of this valuable program through your support of NASASP.

Your $39.00 membership fee supports the efforts of NASASP to increase the quality and quantity of surplus property available to you, and to open the program to other organizations that were not previously eligible to receive surplus property. For your $39.00 annual membership fee, you receive:

- Certificate of membership and lapel pin denoting membership.
- Updates about changes to the program.
- Invitation to attend, as a nonvoting guest, the annual meeting of NASASP.
- The satisfaction of knowing that you are making a difference by joining.
